

Kompli-Global partners with Crucial Compliance to help gaming operators act responsibly

RegTech and compliance specialists form alliance to help operators meet their regulatory challenges

London, UK. 30th June 2020 – Kompli-Global, the leading RegTech AML and Social Responsibility specialist, announced today that it has formed an advisory partnership with gambling sector experts Crucial Compliance.

Kompli-Global provides affordable player ‘Source of Wealth’ reports to some of the world’s largest gaming operators, having recently launched Kompli-SecureMeet, an automated player interview and recording service to revolutionise customer outreach. Kompli-SecureMeet enables gaming operators to discretely communicate with their clients to improve the player experience, uplift onboarding whilst at the same time, adding a powerful tool to the social responsibility arsenal.

Jane Jee, CEO of Kompli-Global, said: “Our platform is designed to address the range of regulatory and responsible gambling challenges operators are facing. Crucial Compliance are best placed to understand how these fit into an organisation’s existing plans and infrastructure.”

Paul Foster, Managing Director of Crucial Compliance, added: “We are very excited to add Kompli-SecureMeet to our portfolio. Companies that act responsibly have been seen to perform better and by implementing an effective player protection strategy, which goes beyond compliance requirements, helps protect players. This also drives a sustainable customer base where player harm is minimised. This software allows operators to do just that and we are proud to be able to offer it to our clients.”

About Kompli-Global

Kompli-Global is a RegTech enterprise bridging the information gap in an increasingly regulated and digital world. It uses digital technologies to reveal hard-to-detect and suppressed adverse information, facilitating regulatory compliance that may otherwise be time-consuming, expensive but largely ineffective.

A truly global company, Kompli-Global has an advisory community present in 66 countries covering 158 regions. This is a worldwide network of compliance experts stationed locally in key positions across the globe.
